BIG QUESTION WAGES Heavy Cost of Opening Plants for Half Day Also Big Factor

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1931, by Post Pub. Co.) Washington- (CPA) - Ethelbert Stewart, commissioner of labor statistics, watches for the government what is happening in the field of wages. And he says that the five-day week has been receiving considerable momentum ever since the business depression started. His latest figures show that there has been a large net gain in the number of industrial and business establishments operating on a five-day week

The lack of sufficient work for five and a half and six days has been largely responsible for the change. In some instances plants have been operating on a three-day week basis because they haven't sufficient orders to keep up their usual production. When comparing it with three days, especially in cities where plants are numerous and information spreads rapidly on working conditions, the employes who have a five-day week consider themselves

HOOVER PARTY NEARS COAST OF GEORGIA

U. S. S. Arizona—(AP)—Overnight the president and members of the presidential party have changed from summer whites, suitable in the tropical climate of Porto Rico and the Virgin islands, to winter blue.

The Arizona, about 300 miles off the coast of Georgia today, plowed steadily northward into a northeaster which kicked up waves over its bow and onto the quarter deck and made rough sailing. Most of those aboard have been good sailors, however, and there has been no considerable discomfort.

The president was up and about early and for the first time in a week wore a heavy overcoat as he walked about the deck. The speed is still expected to arrive at Norfolk Sunday, with the party reaching Washington before bedtime.

POLICE ESCAPE SHOTS FIRED BY

If w o Youths Frightened Away in Attempted Ixonia Bank Holdup

Milwaukee - (49) - Central and bastern Wisconsin authorities today searched for four men who escaped in two automobiles after robbing the Tippecance State bank here of $1,-

The robbers fled after firing twice at two policemen summoned to the scene by a passerby who reported he saw suspicious persons enter the bank at closing time yesterday. The officers were uninjured. While unbble to apprehend the quartet, the policemen were credited with frightening the robbers away and saving the bank from larger loss.

The bank adjoins the Tippecanoc Building and Loan association and the Krause corporation and the bank's burglar alarm system tends into those offices. Miss Alyce Scott, 21, stenographer for the loan company, saw the robbers and was about to sound the alarm when one of the four saw her through a window. He entered the loan office and escorted her at gun point into the bank where she was forced to lie on the floor with three other persons.

In the midst of the robbery, Sergt. Otzelberger and Patrolman Chris Christiansen arrived at the bank, but seeing drawn blinds concluded the robbery alarm was false. They entered the loan office. The robber on guard spied them and ordered them to put their hands up. The policemen dropped to the floor, advancing toward the robber. He fired twice brough a partition at them. The robbers, alarmed at the shots, dashed into their machines and speeded away as squad cars arrived. The squad cars gave chase, but were unable to catch the cars. Meanwhile, another attempted robbery was balked at Ixonia, Wis., west of Milwaukee. when Acting Cashier Fred W. In flight, the ship resembles a huge bird and virtually is as free of air obstruction as the feathered flier. Going a step beyond the idea of a retractable landing gear, engineers have made the tail wheel retractable without making it rigid when it is in position for landing. The tail wheel disappears in the fuselage and the landing gear into the wings by means of hydraulic pressure, controlled by a lever in the cockpit. Legislators and organizations alike took part in the talks, but it was considered unlikely either major party would push a proposed tax increase at the next session of congress because of the nearness of the presidential, election.

While these discussions were un der way, the treasury prepared to issue on Menday $100,000,000 in 90-day oills to help counterbalance the deficit and pay veterans loans.

Aligned in favor of a tax increase were at least three Progressive Republicans—Senator Norris of Nebraska, and Borah of Idaho, and Representative Frear of Wisconsin. Senators Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, and Walsh Democrat Montana, asserted they were against the proposal.

Norris said he believes money be raised by increasing inheritance taxes and hiking the levy on bigger incomes. He expressed the

RULES MISTRIAL AS JUROR GOES INSANE

New Trial to Be Ordered in Idaho for Man Accused of Murder

Bonners Ferry, Idaho - (49)-Discovery of an insane juror in the panel hearing the trial of John Reding, 25-year-old farmer accused of the murder of Llewellyn Curtis Church, caused District Judge E. E. Hunt to declare a mistrial last night. The juror, Lester McMahon, Judge Hunt said other jurors told him, had been "acting queerly" for two days, and had told them he was to be called as a witness for both the prosecution and the defense in the trial he was hearing. Questioned by Judge Hunt, Mc-Mahon said he could not serve as a juror "because I have been guity of a crime." He said he based his assertion on a Bible statement, "a man who sits in judgment of murder will himself be judged of a crime." Two physicians examined him and declared him to be insan.e Reding was returned to the counly jail, to be held without bail until a new trial started.

REBEL LEADER SPURNS TRUCE WITH AMERICA

Sandino Receives Money, Munitions from U. S., Friends Report

Washington -(P) - Nicaragua's bothersome insurgent leader, Gen. Augustino Sandino, has passed up an opportunity to make a truce with the United States and is receiving money and munitions from American sympathizers.

What action, if any, the state department will take to end disorders in the Central American country as marines are withdrawn remained problematical today. A suggestion that Sandino make peace with the United States, it was learned, was rejected by the rebel chieftain.

Marine corps officials said yesterday that Sandino's followers are well equipped with ammunition and weapons, including machine guns. When rebel activity in the isthmus country was renewed last December the state department reported it had not ascertained definitely the source of war materials, but marine officials now have found the supplies and money are coming from the United States.

As marines are withdrawn police work will be left in the hands of the Nicaraguan National guard. Some marine officers have expressed doubt that the native national guard will be able to handle the situation. but the gradual withdrawal already

AND STILL NO SUBSTITUTE

The contest in the senate over the repeal of the Small Loans Act typified the battle between the politician,-and we use the word in its best sense,and the statesman, when the matter involved has a strong appeal to the emotions.

Mr. Huber, the lieutenant-governor, represented the political attitude, Professor John R. Commons, statesmanship. Said Mr. Huber, "This rate of 3½ per cent per month or 42 per cent per annum is outrageous and it must be stopped."

Said Professor Commons, "Outrageously high it is but what shall be given to people as a substitute? These small loans are made to people whocould not otherwise get the money, who have no security to give, who are generally not followed if they fail to pay."

Mr. Huber thundered, "The rate is too high, it is outrageous."

And Professor Commons pointed out that careful research work had ascertained that the losses of the small loan companies are so frequent that their profits are not abnormal and that great foundations whose only purpose was to obtain a return of the principal, and in fact made no profit, had to charge high rates of interest because of the frequent losses in the small loans.

Over and over again Professor Commons kept insisting: "Give us a substitute. What have you to offer to take the place of the needed loan when a man is in a pinch, has no security and no place to turn?"

But the politician is a stubborn per-Whether consciously or not he does not care to know the truth. He will not face the truth. He will turn on his heel until he gets dizzy rather than look at it.

Professor Commons is in fact a great hearted man who sometimes has gotten far ahead of the parade in trying to accomplish things for the people generally, but he has the craving for truth that is the crowning glory of the scientist and science is a part of states-

The politician on the other hand is emotionally controlled. He lives in the sunshine of glowing metaphors, political slogans and he knows good ones when he sees them. Forty-two per cent! Drive the money changers out of the temple! Slogans of that character must not be abandoned.

OVERLOOKED TREASURE

The advance of civilization is uncovering the valuable resources of the north country. Gold, silver and copper have been found in the Hudson Bay region. But man in his search for nature's treasures may pass by without a thought the valuable trappings and mementos of past genera-

It remained for an engineer stationed on the Hudson Bay frontier to discover that there are "countless volumes" of books piled upon the shelves of old Hudson Bay posts which have accumulated over a period of two hundred years. He has written a letter to a book expert in Toronto requesting assistance in checking up the worth of these books, and is of the opinion that many rare volumes will be found among them.

The Hudson Bay company was chartered by Charles II of England in 1670. Ever since its organization it has been called the "Company of Gentlemen "Adventurers." As managers or "factors" of these far flung outposts of civilization came men of varying descriptions. Many of these early fur traders were highly educated. Soldiers of the king, pioneers of a hardy and adventurous race, reputable and sonest men, they came into the wil- tion.—The Detroit News, derness and gave glorious history to the building of the empire. With them they brought their books to help pass these long periods when there was nothing to do except pass time. They continued to add to their libraries by shipments from the mother country. Many of these were classics.

The interested engineer intimates that he has already found originals of the Pickwick Papers and some of Scott's novels. The fur trader whose tastes ran to "thrillers" may have left behind volumes supposed to be extinct, but which might be curios of rare value.

A great imagery is conjured up in one's mind as to the possibility of rich treasure in old first editions in these book companions of "Gentlemen Adventurers" in a lonely frontier life. To the inquisitive bibliophile it is like the discovery of diamond fields.

CHAIN STORE LEGISLATION

It is expected that when the Supreme Court of the United States convenes on April 13th it will render a decision on the Indiana legislation aimed at chain stores.

The supreme court has also accepted jurisdiction in the North Carolina and Mississippi cases likewise involving legislation of this sort.

The Indiana law provided a graduated license tax ranging from $3 to $25 per store, depending on sales volume; and since the chain stores provided the necessary volume they found themselves paying the high license fee and went into the courts.

Kentucky has a wholly different method of shackling chain stores in providing a graduated tax upon sales commencing at 1-20 of 1 per cent on sales of $400,000 and less and reaching a maximum of 1 per cent on sales over $1,000,000 annually. But Kentucky is having her own troubles because this particular law is costing more in labor and difficulty to enforce than the tax provided.

So far this year no further legislation has been passed in the various states against chain stores although at this time such measures are pending in 35 of the 44 legislatures now in session.

The difficulty with all such legislation is found in the provisions of the constitution of the United States. That the citizens of one state shall have equal rights and privileges in every other state, that all persons shall be equal before the law, are formidable hurdles to get over when the attempt is made to single out some particular person for action. But sufficient diversity of opinion is to be found in the laws already passed in the south, where opposition to the chain stores became impassioned, so that the decision of the federal supreme court will indicate to the state legislatures what, if anything, they may do and of course depending upon their attitude towards the extension of the chain in mercantile establishments.

Certainly it would be wise for the legislature of Wisconsin to bide its time until the decisions are announced.

Opinions Of Others

THE RIGHT SPIRIT President Hoover and Secretary Hyde have shown the right spirit in relaxing Agriculture Department regulations on farm relief loans. The $65,000,000 fund recently appropriated is involved. The original regulations, limiting seed and feed loans to a maximum of $2,000, and rehabilitation loans to $1,000, proved unreasonably strict. Such loans, when made, failed to achieve the relief purpose of the legislation. Other features of the regulations were so severe and involved that farmers generally protested.

Relief cannot be extended to those who need t most because the law specifically required security, and many farmers have had their securthe drought. But the administration, under the new order, clearly intends to go so far as the law allows in the direction of liberal interpretation.

Rather than fix new rigid regulations for relief loans, the administration has decided very wisely to leave wide discretion to the local administrative agents, who are in a position to weigh the individual needs.

If these local agents will carry out the new instructions as liberally as intended many desperate farmers will be able to get enough money to feed their children and to plant the crops upon which they must depend.-New York

ISLE ROYALE, NATIONAL PARK In taking Isle Royale under the protection of the National Park Service, President Hoover and the Seventy-first Congress have performed a service whose appreciation among all the people will grow through all the years to come. The people of Michigan, particularly, are to be congratulated upon the consummation of an enterprise which enhances the State's reputation for exceptional recreational advantages. Isle Royale, however, is much more than a playground. And in future, as its fame spreads, its resources and possibilities will continue to unfold. Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D. Noted Physician and Author

AND THEN

Every boy naturally aspires to camp out all night on his own and without a guard or pampering parent standing by. The more primitive his equipment for the making has special comforts such as springs or air mattress, steam heat and the

The sleeping forch fad, even if it is only a fad, at least helped a lot of boys to hang onto the spirit of that gave me embarrassment or inyouth years longer. I doubt if any terfered in my success, I'd have it good evidence can be educed to show that porch sleeping has ever done anybody any harm. On the other hand, unless one likes it and really to dodge the personal responsibility enjoys it more than he does indoor that any honest doctor, surgeon or sleeping, I believe it does no partic specialist affords his patients. And ular good. If my kids preferred to sleep on the porch, the roof or out inject parrafin. I assume you are under the elm, that's where they above the moronic level of intelliwould sleep, so far as hygiene and gence and hence you will not give I were concerned; if they complained a second thought to the swindlers it is too cold or noisy or quiet or who market devices purporting to hot out there, then they could sleep change the shape or size of the somewhere in the house, with arrangements for proper ventilation. Whenever I encounter barehand ed a fiendish murderer or a burly burglar in some far corner of the basement or just creeping into a window in the dark, or a mad bull breaking through the fence to attack my unsuspecting child-as I do too often—it seems to me that I have somehow been cut off from my supply of fresh air. Fresh air is cool, moving air. There is not mere ly the question of the proportion of oxygen and carbon dioxide in the air, nor the degree of humidity, the temperature and the rate of move ment, to consider. There is also the effect produced by contact of the air with the skin, even though it be only the skin of the face. All this is an important chapter of physiciogy which we cannot include here. Suffice it to say that the practical significance of fresh air includes the consideration of the reflexes controlled by the contact of air with the skin. Thus any excess of bed covers or of sleeping garments, piled on when one first gets into bed, perhaps to help warm up the feet, may bring a frightful nightmare a few hours later.

Of course a good cold wind or draft blowing into one's face would counteract the bad effects of excessive coverings, to some extent. Thus the confirmed open air sleeper has a distinct advantage over the mollycoddie who prefers the articial warmth within doors. Still, there is nothing in the world except silly prejudice and ignorance to prevent the indoor sleeper from providing a nice cold draft for himself most nights. A friend of this column recently offered us a good suggestion. He said a gallon glass bottle, such as fruit juices and beverages are sold in, filled with hot water, will keep one's feet and the bed warm all night and well into the next forecan scarcely be chilly in bed. For confirmed open air or porch sleepers this gallon of warmth may not particularly appeal, but for timid indoor sleepers who contemplate a night in the open it should be in-In another talk we'll consider the sleeping out and sleeping in.

HE Travel Man said. "I'll tell you about the sacred bull. It's true that they are bothered and can rest most where. The natives never think to shout, 'Move on!' when found about. They even block the traffic and nobody seems to care. "Could I pet one?" wee Clowny said. A native answered, ahead. A sacred bull is harmless and as quiet as can be." So Clowny answered, "Well, here goes," And then he stroked a bull's cold nose. The bull then licked his hand and Clowny said, "Gee, he likes me!"

They all then walked on down the street and soon were very glad to meet a native who said, "Come with noon. If your feet are warm you me. I'll treat you to a sight. I'm thinking of a big bazaar. We'll walk because it isn't far. The spot is where most everything is sold from morn till night." They reached the large bazaar and, my, 'twas on some steps that

INDIANA CHAIN STORE TAX CASE IN HIGH COURT

Legislatures of Several States Await Ruling from Washington

Washington - (A)- Chain stores and the legislatures of many states will keep a weather-eve on the supreme court when it meets April 13 in expectation of a decision in the Indiana chain store tax case.

If the statute is upheld some of the harmony in the jangle of chain store cash registers may vanish. The Indiana law frankly is an attempt to regulate and check the growth of the chains. Familiar arguments for and against them were heard briefs and speeches attorneys presented to the court.

A federal three-judge district court in Indianapolis declared the tax unreasonable and the law void, but Indiana appealed.

The law was passed in 1929. Under it taxes range from $3 for one store to $25 for each over 20. LaFavette Jackson of Indianapo lis, operating 225 stores as the Standard Grocery company, assailed the law as discriminatory and unconstitutional. He said an example of its unfairness was his tax of $5,443 as compared with that of many department stores which did a bigger business but paid only $3. The Indiana Board of Tax Commissioners in defending the law said a state had the right to "discourage a specific business and encourage another class." Jackson replied facts "support the conclusion of the court below that the act does not relate to public health, public welfare, public morals or public safety." One attack by a state law on chain stores has already failed in the supreme court. A Pennsylvania law which prohibited members of a corporation from acquiring a drug store unless they were licensed pharmacists was declared unconstitutional. The North Carolina Chain Store tax also is pending in the court but it was filed several weeks after the Indiana case. It places a flat tax of $50 on each chain store. The statute was sustained by the North Carolina Supreme court and the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company appealed.

FIRE DEPARTMENT IS

CALLED THREE TIMES The fire department was called out three times last night and yesterday afternoon to fires, but none of them resulted in serious damage. About 5:15 yesterday afternoon the department was called to residence of Emil Springstroh, 1330 W. Summer-st. About 9 o'clock the firemen answered an alarm at 1219 S. Kernan-ave when the floor of the residence caught fire from an overheated stove. The house is occupied by Andrew Germaine and Lloyd Bessett families. The fire was put out by occupants before the department arrived, and only slight damage resulted.

GAS TAX IN EFFECT AS SOON AS BILL IS SIGNED

The 4-cent gasoline tax, which has passed the assembly and senate, will go into effect as soon as the governor signs the bill and the law is published, according to a letter received by the county highway department from Solomon Levitan. state treasurer.

All gasoline sold after the bill is signed and published will be liable to the tax of 4 cents. This will apply to the jobbing as well as the retail

There has come to the notice of the state department, according to Mr. Levitan, the fact that a number of dealers and large users of gasoline who pay the tax direct to the jobber, have been filling up their tanks and paying the gasoline tax of 2 cents to the jobber. This gasoline will be used on the roads after this law has gone into effect, and also will be subject to the 4-

EXPECT TO COMPLETE VIADUCT IN 3 WEEKS

The C. R. Meyer and Sons Construction company, which is building the viaduct on Highway 41 near Van Dyne, expects to complete the work in three weeks. The viaduct will eliminate two dangerous curves and a grade crossing over several sets of railroad tracks. Workmen have poured 130 lineal feet of concrete flooring, completing the work up to the railroad tracks. There still are 230 feet of bridge floor to be poured over the tracks. Framing is being put in place so this work can be completed.

14 CASES OF DISEASE REPORTED IN COUNTY

Fourteen cases of contagious diseases were reported from Outagamie-co in the week ending March 21. according to a report received by Miss Marie Klein, county nurse, from the state board of health. Nine cases of chicken pox were reported from New London. Two cases of measles and two cases of scarlet fever were reported from Appleton, and one case of diphtheria was reported from Freedom.

An original two No Trump bid that the bidder holds at least two shows 32 to 4 quick tricks in hand, quick tricks distributed in three together with either sufficient suit suits and the probability of at least length or intermediate strength to bring the hand to 1 of 7 probable tricks. In addition, to warrant the bid, all four suits should be stopped and at least three of the four doubly stopped, or the equivalent of such holding, as for example:

unless he holds a trickless hand. Original Bids of Three no Trumps An original three No Trump bid shows a hand containing 41 or 5 or more quick tricks, and, in all, the probability of at least eight tricks, cither because of the probable long card strength held in one or more suits, or by reason of strong intermediate. In addition the bid shows all form suits doubly stopped or the equivalent of such holding; and thus a three-bid does not necessarily require any support by partner for game, or at least not the same degree of strength as would be required had the original bld been of but

Pre-Emptive No Trump Bids in Gen-

Pre-emptive No Trump blds of two or even of three, invite partner's cooperation in arriving at the best bid for game between the two hands. Consequently partner should have no hesitation about taking out a preemptive No Trump bid with long weak suit holdings that should offer a greater probability of game at a suit trump than at No Trump. In fact, take-outs of this nature can be made more freely when partner starts with a two or three No Trump bid, than when Partner starts with one No Trump only.

Teach Child To Acquire Good Voice

BY ANGELO PATRI

Your voice speaks for you. Not alone in the words it utters. Indeed they often are the disguise you assume to hide your thought, your attitude, your state of health. The words may be gallant, or bold, or conciliatory, and the voice the direct opposite. You cannot conceal the true meaning of your mood and attitude if you speak. All that you are speaks in the vibration of your voice and your secrets are spilled like precious oil upon the ground. A lovely voice is the key to the Celestial City. It will open every door to its possessor. It is more to be coveted than Aladdin's lamp, or Cleopatra's charm, or Fortune's purse. With it one can charm the world and all that dwell therein to his hand—and the gates of that fairy city of one's dreams, swing wide.

I do not believe that it is possible to cultivate a Caruso voice. Nor Jenny Lind's. The great artists have a special gift to start with, but even their gifts, magic as they are, would not help much if they were not cultivated tirelessly. Life all other good things the price is high in human effort. You must work, sacrifice and hope, if you would have i fine voice. We need good voices in our daily business. It makes people like to listen to us and if we catch their cars we soon, if we have any story at all, have their approval, or their good word. A harsh word, a raspy voice, a crude enunciation will mark their author as crude, underbred, untrained. One's speech sets his social level and limits his usefulness.

When we know that, and no one will dispute it, why do we not try harder to make our own voices pleasant, our own speech lovely, and train our children to that achievement? Simply because it is hard work, requires a little self-discipline. and most of all, because it requires us to be different from the crowd The crowd enunciates poorly, uses a discordant tone, slights the language, and who are we to be different?

One of the greatest obstacles to the teaching of good diction, pleasant voices, courteous and fluent speech is this attitude on the part of the people. One may dress like a prince, live like one, but let him speak the tonque of learning and the voice of culture and one is branded as Nobody likes affected speech. The drawling, lisping, smirking talker is a blot on the clear page of English speech, but correct speech is not affectation. Culture cannot be affected. It flees at the first hint of that silliness which marks the aspirant for social honors who is too lazy or too ignorant to do the real thing.

It is easy, enough to acquire a pleasant voice, to use clear speech, to talk in tones that are musical and tion not touching the floor at all if use words that lend themselves to you can help it. musical speech. CORSETS DON'T TAKE PLACE OF SLIM FIGURE

BY ALICIA HART

I have heard women rejoice because corsets are in again and they can have a restrained figure and still be in style.

Don't be fooled that way. No corseted figure on earth ever deceived any one into thinking a woman was beautifully and girlishly slender, There is no denying they improve your appearance, often, but usually there is a rigidity that is not to be confused with pliable, lithe, free fig-

SNOW BLOCKS ROADS, HALTS ALL BUSINESS

Streets Covered With Deep Drifts: Busses and Trains Are Late

Neenah-Traffic was tied up and little business was transacted here Saturday as a result of the storm which pilled up snow as deep as four and five feet. Many trains were late, the Oshkosh busses did not arrive during the morning and the Appleton busses were off schedule. The city snow plows were brought out for the first time this winter and kept the main thoroughfares passable, although there were few cars operating other than taxis and delivery cars.

Business was at a standstill as people could not get out for shopping until nearly noon. Offices and factories were short handed, as many employes from neighboring cities could not get here. Many cars were stalled in snow banks and had to be dug out and towed to garages. It was the worst storm of the season. The Neenah basketball team,

Sounds Old Warning

In the Adana newspaper "Ahali" Kemali Bey has uttered the warning that now sounds strange in Turkish ears.

"It is the fear of Allah you need," ie said, addressing the whole Turkish nation. "I shall be called a reactionary because I tell you this, but I tell you that the national mourning in which we are now plunged can be lifted only when again the fear of Allah fills you. "Virtue is no more. Liars and profiteers have sacrificed beauty and mortality. When people shamelessly boast that they have sold for 30 plasters something that was worth three, and have thus amassed wealth, then we know that we are living in a monstrous age.

Deplores Conditions "How can man save himself from this present decrepitude? Only when each individual perfects him-self morally and takes stock of hisown conscience. "People have the government which they merit. Until we perfect-

Wrightstown Team Admitted to Northeastern Wisconsin League

Chilton-Col. John Hanley was reelected president of the Northeastern Wisconsin baseball league at a meeting at Reedsville Thursday. Other officers elected were Frank Kretsch of Kiel, vice president, and Leo Tyler, secretary and treasurer. Wrightstown was admitted to the league, which is composed of Hilbert, Reedsville, Brillion, Valders, Kiel and Chilton. A plan is being worked out by which two series of 10 games each will be played, the winners to play for the league championship. At a meeting to be held April 12 the schedule of games will be drawn up.

The second Chilton Pig fair will be held Saturday morning; April 4, on Grand-st near the St. Paul depot. Besides pigs, other farm products may be brought in to be sold. It is expected that the monthly piz fair will develop into a county wide marketing day as many farmers have, expressed approval of the idea, and in many instances have gone long distances to attend similar fairs. Many farmers do not raise their young pigs, but plan to get them at this

TO LEASE BULLS IN CALUMET-CO

Group Meets at Chilton to Arrange Cooperative

Contracts Special to Post-Crescent Forest Junction—An innovation in dairy herd improvement through a process of leasing bull calves is about to be put into practice in Calumet-co, according to Leonard Seybold, local Holstein dairyman. He was reelected secretary-treasurer of the Calumet-co Holstein Friesian Breeders' association at the annual meeting of that group at Chilton Thursday evening.

Conforming to a plan ratified at an earlier meeting, a contract to be used in the new system is being prepared. Under the plan, 25 pure-bred buils of good breeding and satisfactory production records will be let out to farmers upon payment of $5 for bulls up to one month old and $10 for those over one and under two months. The lessee assuming care of the animal acquires one-half interest in the bull which cannot be disposed of without the consent of the lessor.

For distribution purposes the county is being divided into three general groups. Gilbert Hipke at New Holstein has supervision of the southern end of the county: A. L. McMahon at Chilton, of the central: while Mr. Seybold, besides looking after the northern end, will keep a complete general record of all transactions in his secretarial capacity. A recommendation to the Calumet County Agricultural association that premiums on cattle exhibited at the annual county fair be awarded in proportion to the number of cattle of a certain breed shown on a five-year average, instead of over a single year as has been the practice, also was passed. Frank Klochn and Edwin Seybold also attended the annual meeting. E. A. Rusch, local member of the ceive Service at St. Peter board of directors of the county association, was succeeded by George Trimberger of Charlestown in the annual election. Gilbert Hipke was reelected president.

Debate School Lands A petition for the detachment of rural lands from joint school district No. 2 of town Brillion and Brillion village, a free high school district, was being considered in official circles of the respective municipalities

The petition, dated March 21, is joined in by land owners in section 27 in the town of Brillion and asked for the detachment of that area these two officials take the necessary steps under Sec. 40.30 of the Wisconsin statutes for the granting of the petition. The ambiguity of the petition has perplexed the officials concerned who believe that no valid detach. ment of the land in question can be thereunder effected. While Sec 40.85 of the statutes prescribes the method of such detachment proceedings, the petition requests that it be done under Sec. 40.30, which applies only to common school districts. And its being addressed to the village president and town chairman instead of to the school district clerk gives it some of the characteristics of proceedings under Sec. 40.66 which applies only to union high school districts. Detachment proceedings in that school district had been previously attempted in August, 1929. A small Fremont - Julius Guenther of area of farm land in the town of Readfield cled at 2 o'clock Friday Rantoul had been detached at that time through a successful petition. In the new Metho-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, which will be shown at the Fox Theatre Sunday only, Menjou plays the part of golf champion. He seems to devote most of his matches, however, to the boudours of other men's wives.

Edgar Selwyn directed the film which is a picturization of the Vincent Lawrence stage farce, "Among the Married." He managed to bring it to the screen almost intact in dialogue but enhanced by action limited on the stage by obvious cir-

FIND MANY LAUGHS IN OAKIE PICTURE

Comedian in "Sea Legs," Coming to Elite

A laugh wave is about to strike Yourtown, Jack Oakle is about to come aboard with "Sea Legs," at the Elite theatre, today and Sunday.

"The Sap from Syracuse" is coming back in a bigger and more hilarious wise-cracking, rib-splitting comedy riot, "Sea Legs," with Eugene Pallette, the rotund roller of roars, and Harry Green, the "kibitzer," in tow. And, in addition, Oakle has that comical charmer of "The Love Parade," "Honey," "Animal Crackers," lovely Lillian Roth, to make love to.

"Sea Legs" is Oakie's third venture into the navy, his first having won him his Paramount contract; when he appeared with Clara Bow in "The Fleet's In." But, in this picture. Oakie has much more to do than

As an American gob, shanghaied into a foreign navy as a substitute for a slacker millionaire, Oakie has many irksome duties to perform, under the jovial supervision of Eugene Pallette. Harry Green, the author of all his misfortunes, is the bane of Oakie's existence, until his attention is attracted by a dozen of the captain's beautiful daughters, with Lillan Roth as the chief distractor.

"Sea Legs" is an out-and-out laughing matter, without a serious moment to halt the hilarity. Its plot is built around the humorous wisecracks, written by that master of American slang, George Marion, Jr., and slung to good advantage by Oakie. A doctor's patients may be dangerous rivals to his wife, but what about another doctor stealing her

This is the climaxing situation in 'Doctor's Wives." Fox drama shown at the Fox theatre tonight at the midnight preview and for three days starting Monday.

"Never have I portrayed a role," Warner Baxter declared, "with more potential appeal to audiences, nor one from which I derived more personal satisfaction. This is due to the universality of the subject, and from the fact that Dr. Judson Pennings is a character strong enough in ideals and purposes to appeal to veryone.'

The drama of "Doctor's Wives" is prought about when the most promsing young surgeon in New York marries the daughter of a doctor, a girl whom he thought would instinctively understand his desire to devote his time, energy and talents to the relief of suffering.

Instead, suspicions sown in her mind by her mother, and other doctors' wives, soon convert the sweet young bride into a jealous counterpart of the legions who believe that "the patient is the common enemy of every doctor's wife."

Joan Bennett is said to be especially appealing both as the idealistic dreaming young bride, and the tempestuously emotional wife who runs the gamut of experiences before she learns that her husband's sacrifices for humanity are greater

A GREAT PROGRAM of Vitaphone Shorts!

If I were Mayor, of Appleton.

I would declare next week, STARTING TOMORBOW, SUNDAY, "FATHER AND SON WEEK," in honor of the most enthralling, most true-to-life screen achievement to come out of Hollywood in the past decade!

I would advise EVERY FATHER, EVERY SON, EVERY MOTHER, and EVERY DAUGHTER, to see the portrayal of typical American Boyhood and the typical American "DAD" as presented in "FATHER'S SON," First National and Vitaphone's adaptation of BOOTH TARKINGTON'S Immortal story, featuring Lewis Stone, Leon Januey and Irene Rich.

"FATHERS SON" steals a page from American Life and brings to the surface the undying love of Father for Son but not until "Dad" realizes why his son wants to play ball, climb trees, and go on pirate expeditions—as boys do.

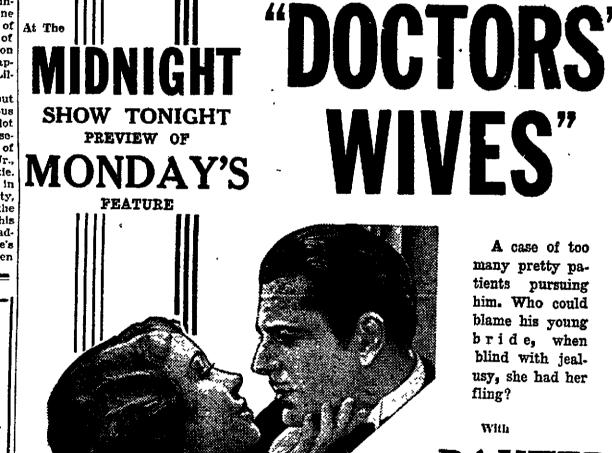

"FATHER'S SON" strikes deep at every home! It is so different from the ordinary film fare! So realistic! So genuinely human, that I would want every member of the family to see it! The Pathos of "The Rid"! The Boyish Pranks of "Tom Sawyer"! The Wild Escapades of "Penrod" are all combined in one Truly Great production!

If I Were Mayor, I would urge everyone to turn back the years . . . Play hooky from Care and Toil and revel in this heart-stirring drams which comes to WARNER'S APPLETON THEATRE STARTING TOMORROW!

BREMEN TO BE PLACED IN NATIONAL MUSEUM

Washington - (AP) - Three planes whose names are etched deeply in aeronautic history will stand under the same roof when Smithsonian's national aircraft collection is reopened about May 1 to the public. Increased by addition of the Bremen, first plane to make a westerly nonstop crossing of the north Atlantic, the collection will include the hull of the NC-4, first plane to fly easterly over the Atlantic, and the Chicago, flagship of the army's round-the-world flight. In an adjoining building hangs

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis, giving the institution two planes distinguished for westerly north Atlantic crossings, and two pre-eminent in easterly flights.

The Bremen, in which the late Baron von Huenefeld, Hermann Koehl and James Fitzmaurice flew from Ireland to Greenely Island in 1928, was loaned to the collection for three years by the New York museum of science and industry.

It will be shown in its new home when Smithsonian has completed modernization of its aircraft building, which has been closed for several months.

"The Belle of Bagdad" Pre- NINE PRETTY GIRLS sented Friday Eve-

Kaukauns— An operetta, "The Belle of Bagdad," was presented by students of the high school Friday evening in the high school auditorium under the direction of Miss Barbara Baldwin, music instructor.

The play was featured with many excellent dancers and chorus singing. The play was centered about Mary Taylor as Jewel, the favored daughter of Caliph of Bagdad, played by John Emith. There was a plot to kill the Caliph with a bomb concealed in a camera. The Caliph had given orders to the precept of police, skillfully played by Mark Van Lieshout, to kill anyone found with the camera Dick Taylor, a movie camera man, played by John Noie, and his two airplane mechanics, played by Arthur Miller and Jack Van Lieshout were drawn into the Wisconsin's other delegate to the adventure when they were found with a camera in their possession. superintendent of the Northwestern Taylor had them sent to Bagdad to Military-Naval academy at Lake get a picture of the belle of the city for his company.

Pleasing performances were givlove affair of the daughter and friend with the airplane mechanics. The case of Henrietta Whipstitch, romantic spinster, played by Mabel Hilgenberg, for the bored Englishman, Archie Fitzgibbons, played by Peter Metz, was highly amusing. Other actors taking part included Dorothy Bedat as a dancer, Corrine Mayer and Allegra Sullivan as two daughters of the Caliph. There were six choruses of American girls Oriental dancers, guards, marines, natives and American tourists.

WAR TOLD IN FILM Distinguished Cast Scores

WOMEN'S SIDE OF

in Intensely Moving Story

In "War Nurse," which opens a three day engagement at the Elite heatre Monday Director Edgar Selwyn, the noted stage producer, has given us perhaps the most interesting single film document to be compiled about the war. Where "The Big Parade" told of the heroism of men, "War Nurse" shows the part of women in the titanic conflict. With broad, effective strokes, Selwyn has sketched us an unforgettable picture of the hardships brave women underwent in their efforts to save the lives of millions of men. •

While this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

picture has an unusually large cast of big names, special attention is deserved by June Walker playing Babs, because it is the first talkies of this popular little stage star. Babs is a role which swings quickly from deft comedy to sheer tragedy. and Miss Walker is entirely ade-quate no matter which mood is being interpreted. The other feminine lead finds An

Wisconsin High And Racine Washington Park In Cage Finals ROCKFORD TANKERS

LAST NIGHT'S 2 GAMES EASY FOR WINNERS

Beloit and Superior Central Competing in Consolation Round

BY STANLEY KALISH Associated Press Sports Editor ADISON - (A)- Wisconsin from Washington Park of Racine, playing its first tournament after a mediocre season, for the high school basketball championship of Wisconsin here tonight.

As survivors from among 16 district winners, the teams will stage a battle of a conference against a conference with the Badger preps carrying the colors of the Southern Visconsin six and Washington the flag of the Big Eight.

Each advanced into the finals last night, easily disposing of foes, from heir own league, Wisconsin high thumping Watertown 12 to 8 and the Parkers riding over. Madison Central, 18 to 11.

Return Title to South The winner of the game tonight vill return the title to southern Wisconsin after two years of supremacy in the central section of the state. Neenah, last year's champion was eliminated in the first round of the meet by Racine, while Wausau. winner in 1929, did not qualify. Opening with a 17 to 14 victory

Washington Park gave warning that it was the team to fear when it beat Neenah 28 to 23 in the first round, and then ran wild against Platteville, 22 to 9. The Central victory was earned with the same domination of the play.

Wisconsin high won its way into the state meet by taking the Monroe district championship, turning in victories over Edgerton, Brodhead. South Milwaukee district with victories and Shorewood.

Games Never in Doubt

The semi-final games last night never were in doubt. Wisconsin high ran off seven points before Watertown could score, and the Goslings always were at least three points behind. Kelly's screaming long shots and Sheldon Loughborough's fine rebound play gave the preps a wide superiority. > The death of the stalwart, and at times stormy, old figure of baseball ended a six-year quest of health in which Johnson went from hospital to hospital and sanitarium to sanitarium in search of relief from his dread enemy, diabetes.

His final illness had kept him in a hospital bed here since last September, except for a few weeks in January when he apparently was on the road to recovery and was able to go to Hot Springs, Ark. There he suffered a relapse and physicians advised amputation of a leg because of infection. He returned to St. Louis. Amputation was avoided but a blood transfusion was resorted to Feb. 19. For a day or two after the transfusion. Johnson's condition seemed improved, but both he and his physicians soon gave up hope for recovery. He was unconscious and delirious much of the time before the end. Ban Johnson made baseball a big business. He developed it from a sandlot pastime to a game of million dollar stadia, $75,000 players and major league clubs valued at $50,000, .He originated the world series. He chose the presidency of the American League in 1900, at a $2,500 annual salary, in preference to a half interest in the Chicago White Sox, and he made himself a $40,000 executive by applying business methods and strict discipline to a sport which, when he

His sense of showmanship and his iron rule enabled Byron Bancroft over Beloit, the Madison finalist Johnson to see that baseball must be completely dominated the upper decent and well-ordered to be popubracket, sweeping aside Wisconsin lar, and to eliminate the rowdyism Rapids in a bitter overtime game, 14 which kept speciators away. He put to 13, and then taking the Goslings the players on a contract basis. He lifted the morale of the sport by vesting absolute power in umpires to rule the conduct of the players on the field.

Johnson was destined for a legal career by the parents to whom he was born in Newark, Ohio, in January, 1866. He went to Oberlin college, was a schoolmate at Marietta college of Charles G. Barnard, president of the American league. He died late yesterday afternoon, the victim of a heart atack at the Mayo Brothers' clinic at Rochester, Minn.

> The baseball leader had been in apparently good health until the time of the annual meeting of the American league in New York last December when he suffered an attack of influenza. He continued his work, however, against the advice of his physicians until the meeting was over. Then he went to Florida for a brief rest before starting his annual inspection tour of the American league training camps.

Mr. Barnard's health, however, had not returned to normal, and he decided to consult the Mayos, belley ing he was suffering from stomach trouble. He reached Rochester Wednesday. His case was diagnosed immediately by specialists as heart disease. He was ordered to bed, but was not informed of the seriousness of his condition. He was resting easily and in apparently no distress when he was seized with a violent attack and passed away while his wife was at his bedside talking to him.

price trends made this week's cattle market one of the most erratic of the season. The country fooled steer buyers by sending too few finished heavy steers to go around, with the result that prices for this one class ascented 25c early in the week. GRAIN PRICES TRENDS ON HOG MART FALL AS STOCK Steer Buyers Fooled by Scarce Supplies — Large MARKET SLUMPS

Chicago (P)-A wide variety of Corn and Wheat Mart Sags as List of Securities Tumbles

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN

Associated Press Market Editor Chicago - (49) - Pronounced setwheat and corn lower today, Anothof predictions for abnormal cold weather in domestic wheat territcent of winter wheat acreage would be abandoned were generally re garded as excessive, Stock market weaknesses contrib uted at times to bearish action of wheat. Notice was taken also of reports that Russian shipments were likely to increase, even though dumping might be avoided. Bears contended, too, that despite prospects of government-sponsored domestic wheat holdings being held off the market indefinitely, the surplus Increased Pressure Directed And would continue to act as a deterrent to any material advance in prices. A further handicap to wheat bulls was word that Australia has yet 100,000,000 bushels to dispose of, and that this wheat must compete against English flour made from with wheat, and as a result of continued liberal receipts. Oats were neglected.

Provisions had a downward trend paralleling hog values. Primary arrivals of corn were 733,000 bushels, a week ago 708,000 134 cars, compared with 96 at this time last week and 148 on the corresponding day last year. Commission houses did the bulk of selling.

New York-(P)-The bears held Gold the whip hand in today's stock mar- Goods ket. Share prices crumbled under a Graha heavy onrush of selling, and several Grant prominent issues lost $3 to $5 a Gt No share, while Auburn Auto tumbled Gt W nearly $14. Grigs The day's transactions exceeded 2, Gulf S 000,000 shares, although the Satur-15ic: young Americas 15ic; brick day session is limited to two hours. Hahn This is more than was traded in a Hartn full five-hour session on Tuesday. Hersh The selling was accelerated by a Houd weekend estimate of steel mill opera- House tions in the Youngstown area next Houst week, indicating a shrinkage to 48 Houst per cent of capacity, from 51.

Issues losing $3 to $5 included Hudso American Telephone, American Can, Hupp Bethlehem Steel. American Water Works, Case. Allied Chemical, Du. Ills C pont, Consolidated Gas and Worth- Ind I ington Pump. General Motors and Ind R Radio lost $2, and U. S. Steel and Ing I General Electric, about $1.50.

COTTON INDUSTRY

One of First to Go Down in Depression, It Now Is Starting Up

Baheon Park, Fla.-Cotton textiles were still below production even at the greatly reduced rate of output Improvement began in the midsum cent of capacity, employment had inand instead of over-supply there was an under-supply of cotton goods to meet the demand. The improvement was earlier and more rapid than in the other basic industries.

In judging the outlook it is well to going throught a lot of grief, long before general business downward in the midsummer of fits had been negligible, production burdensomely excessive, and price margins disastrously small except for the very strongest companies. While the rest of the business world was still on a grand prosperity spree being closed, necessary consolidations were being made, much obsolete machinery scrapped, and drastic readjustments undertaken. This process has continued during the dethe depressions. Of course, there still remains burdensome over-capacity, and too many inefficient mills, but much good has been accomplished in the way of curtailment. The cotton textile business is on a sounder foundation today than at any time

1931, production of cotton cloth was 414,000,000 yards, or twenty-one per year. Sales, on the other hand, were 566,000,000 yards, or eighteen per on hand are being drawn down. At the end of February they were 319,000,000 yards compared with 461,Follows 000,000 at the end of December, a decline of 30 per cent. prices from the extremely low levels of last fall, further strengthening is anticipated in the next few months. Those mills which covered their raw material needs at the lowest prices position. Quotations of some finished cotton goods have already turned up from the very depressed levels earlier this year. This means that profit improved, although still relatively only 15.3 cents per pound. Both reached a level where the mills must and large volume at low margin rather than on high unit profit. The recent uptrend in cotton-goods is a helpful factor, but it does not obof expenses and increased efficiency throughout the industry. Output Of Motor Cars Is Slowly Increasing significant of the direction of general business than that of the automobile. Since the first of the year, production of cars and trucks has been pointed. In some respects the expansion has been disappointingly slow, but the fact remains that with each succeeding month greater numbers of motor cars are being turned out. The low point in the automobile industry was reached in November with a total output of 141,000 cars and trucks in the United States and Canada. In December there was some improvement and in January the 183 miles between the end of Lake total was 178,399. February brought still further expansion with 230,000 cars and trucks an increase of 29 per cent over the preceding month. The increase in February over January of 29 per cent was the largest percentage of expansion in monthly output which has occurred since that of 40 per cent from January to February three years ago. With all leading manufacturers scheduling further advances in operations for the current month it is likely that production in March will show an additiona gain of 15 or 20 per cent.

On this basis, production of the first quarter should approximate almost 700,000 cars and trucks, representing a recovery of nearly 50 per cent from the low record of 461,000 units in the last quarter of 1930. Although this gain is impressive the fact remains that operations continue at the lowest levels since the depressed period of 1922.

The rather deliberate resumption of the automobile industry bears out the forecast at the start of the year that recovery of business in 1931 would be gradual. If the advent of spring weather stimulates increased public buying, impetus to manufacturers of cars and trucks and to general business will be given.

WORLD'S GREATEST POWER PROJECT MAY TAP ST. LAWRENCE

New York Legislature Makes Appropriation for Huge Development

BY PAUL HARRISON

New York-The world's greatest ower project, and one that may nave a nation-wide economic significance, is shaping itself in the minds and calculations of a group of American and Canadian engineers and (inance experts. Politics is playing its part, too, and at Albany Governor Franklin

D. Roosevelt is insisting upon the legislative creation of a "power authority" to carry out the vast plan to develop the latent energy of the St. Lawrence river. Every second of every day, the Great Lakes pour into the Atlantic, through the river, an average of 246,000 cubic feet of water. In the Ontario and Montreal Harbor this flow falls 226 feet, far enough, engineers will tell you, to create some ,000,000 horsepower of electricity. Today this is virtually wasted. Within a few years, if the Province of Ontario and the State of New York come to agreement, glant turbines and generators housed in twin nergize a hundred citles. Larger Than Muscle Shoals The total cost would be $171,547,-000, a figure which would make the famed Muscle Shoals project look like the old mill stream. But so efficient and profitable would it be that the development could pay for itself within 40 years, according to estimates of the commission. This despite the fact that rates to the consumer generally would be lower than anywhere else in the United States.

plants under a concrete dam at

Massena Point, N. Y., will be grinding out sufficient power to light and

Not alone in its scientific aspects would the St. Lawrence power 'development be unique. Its financing, management and control would be unprecedented, for the State of New York, provided the legislature is willing, is going into the business for itself. Thus, by selling its power to transmitting and distributing companies already established, under contracts specifying the charges for delivery of the current to the consumer, the state's Power Authority would be able to fix electric rates without aid from the Public Service Commission.

"The effect of the proposal, if once carried through to execution. may be to mark a turning point in the regulation of utilities, not only in New York, but throughout the United States," said James C. Bonbright, Professor of Finance at Columbia University, "For if the experiment works, it will get rid of the tedious delays and uncertainties, and the expensive and timeconsuming litigations which make the American system of public ser vice regulation the most unsatisfactory system that exists in the entire world."

Aritated Since 1905

There has been agitation for utilization of the river's wasted power ever since, in 1905, the specthrough the mists of the Niagara river and called attention to the private exploitation of public waterways. The second election of Alfred from fatal injury. The timely and E. Smith as governor was, he said, courageous action on the part of an indication of the "popular man-Sergeant Passano reflects great cred- date that the St. Lawrence should be developed by the state itself." Governor Roosevelt also made it an issue in his successful campaign for a second term. In 1926, the state water power commission made a study of the project, which since has been planned and re-planned by American and Canadian experts.

Canadian engineers still recommend the construction of two dams, at Barnhart and Crysler Islands, the former to be built first and its power sold while the further demand for nower is determined. It is claimed that this scheme would necessitate the flooding of less land. and would spare several old military cemeteries which practically have become national shrines.

American experts, however, now feclare that a single dam at Massena Point, farther down stream than previously has been considered, will produce more power, can be constructed in less time, will flood no more land and will save approximately $70,000,000. This group is headed by Lt.-Gen. Edgar Jadwin, U. S. A., retired, who as chief of touch with all previous plans for the project, and for development St. Lawrence navigation.
